

FUEL FILL CAP

The number one comment we get from 2013 and 2014 Ram Turbo Diesel owners:

"I love my new truck."

The number one problem/complaint we get from 2013/2014 truck owners – you guessed it:

"Where is the fuel fill cap? What an oversight."

To correct the problem/complaint, MOPAR has released part number 62029561AA which is a plastic, v-shaped, press-in cap. Their price is $.95.

We sourced the cap and decided to send it to you at no charge. Hey, congratulations on your 2013/2014 truck purchase!

If you desire a more substantial fuel cap you'll want to consider our billet aluminum cover (AS-6540) that sells for $19.95 or fuel plug (GG-FUELPLUG) that sells for $12.95.

A Word From the Turbo Diesel Register

We hope you find this idea to be valuable. If you haven't already, please consider the TDR as a great resource for all things Dodge/RAM Cummins Turbo Diesel. Their website address is www.tdri.com and an annual subscription to the membership club is $35.00 per year. A great value.

If you need more assistance, we are only a phone call away.
